Special Features:

The next generation miniature transmitter (mtx), known as ngm, has a smaller footprint than the mtx nsn 5820-01-545-6448; portable, lightweight, self-contained transmitter suitable for a wide range of situational awareness applications. It transmits the user's unique id, gdp-derived location and a short status message in a short burst data message via collection of broadcast from remote assets (cobra)
