

View Online at <https://aerobasegroup.com/nsn/5999-01-467-2371>

Special Features:

The monitor module may be used to supervise a single initiating device or a zone of initiating devices; each monitor module contains address switches to set a unique address or input point for programming or control by the system; the m501mf is mounted in a standard single gang electrical box; the m501mf mounts in the electrical box and the device that it is supervising is installed on the electrical box

General Description:

The m501mf monitor module (mini module) is an analog addressable device used to assign an address or monitor fire alarm or supervisory initiating device contacts; the m501mf supervises any dry contact initiating device; the monitor module is polled by the cm (n) or cm2(n) via the zas-1 card; the m501mf has a class b (style b) initiating device circuit

Shelf Life:

N/a

Unit Of Measure:

--

Demilitarization:

No