NSN 6515-01-586-7271

Epidural Catheter Stabilizer - Page 1 of 1

View Online at https://aerobasegroup.com/nsn/6515-01-586-7271

|         | _         |
|---------|-----------|
| Special | Features: |

| Prevents dislodgement, of | diconnection and migration of epidural-type catheters; | for continuous epidural anesthesia, | nerve or wound blocks |
|---------------------------|--|-------------------------------------|-----------------------|
| and combined spinal/epid  | dural anesthesi  |                                     |                       |
| Shelf Life:               |  |                                     |                       |
| N/a                       |  |                                     |                       |
| Unit Of Measure:          |  |                                     |                       |
|                           |  |                                     |                       |
| Demilitarization:         |  |                                     |                       |
| No                        |  |                                     |                       |