

View Online at <https://aerobasegroup.com/nsn/6515-01-632-0091>

Product Name:

Monitor system intercranial pressure

Special Features:

Intracranial pressure monitoring system should provide a continuous numeric display of the mean, systolic and diastolic intracranial pressure in both hospital environments and transport from field hospitals to definitive care, including during transport by aircraft; device should be rechargeable battery operated with the capability of being operated from ac power receptacle; the army configuration will consist of all necessary support items as required to be fully operational and functional; device configuration would also include a hardened case to hold and maintain the device and components

Shelf Life:

N/a

Unit Of Measure:

--

Demilitarization:

No