

View Online at <https://aerobasegroup.com/nsn/7010-01-546-4691>

Accessory Components And Quantity:

The cisad consists of video, still photo and graphics hardware and software capable of importing, cataloging, archiving and retrieving any digital imagery. This imagery storage and retrieval system encompasses all equipment needed to make imagery available to commanders via a web based searchable database

Product Name:

Combat imagery searchable archiving database

Special Features:

The cisad consists of video, still photo and graphics hardware and software capable of importing, cataloging, archiving and retrieving any digital imagery. This imagery storage and retrieval system encompasses all equipment needed to make imagery available to commanders via a web based searchable database. The cisad is an advanced digital archiving, cataloging and web published searchable system that will provide marines with teh 4691 and 4602 mos the equipment necessary to support commanders for the following documentation: fires and maneuver, logistics, intelligence, force protection, as well as the many facets of military information support operations. This system archives and disseminates imagery of the history of marine corps events/training and provides imagery for mission evaluation. The system is designed to support imager y movement vertically and horizontally to higher commands. The system is designed for operation by a single marine.

Shelf Life:

N/a

Unit Of Measure:

--

Demilitarization:

Yes - demil/mli